Getting Logs:

A $200 deposit is due to Wood from the Hood (WFTH) upon signing this agreement & before log(s) are picked up or dropped off at our yard. If a log(s) show up at our yard without a signed contract & deposit the log owner has 7 days to make a deposit or the log(s) will become the property of WFTH. This deposit will be fully applied to the milling service. A cut list needs to be provided within two weeks. Any delays on a cut list, you will be charged a $2.00/day/deposit storage fee which will be deducted from the deposit. Wood from the Hood will continue to charge the storage fee up to 1 month from the logs arriving at our yard. If no cut list is made available by that point, customer will need to make arrangements to have the logs picked up from our yard, or forfeit title of the log(s) to WFTH at no charge (any deposit balance will be forfeit as pick-up and storage charges). Terms may be modified by written agreement between customer and WFTH. Once a cut list has been provided and WFTH has issued a complete estimate of all milling and hauling charges a 50% deposit is due for cutting to begin. Deposits will be deducted from your final invoice which is based on actual wet/green lumber yield. Final payment is due upon completion of kiln drying process.
